

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF ACCREDITATION AND PARTICIPATION

FIH World Cup Qualifiers 2026 Santiago

Chilean Hockey Federation (Chile Hockey)

1. Purpose and Scope

This document establishes the terms and conditions applicable to any natural or legal person requesting accreditation or registration to participate, collaborate, or perform functions within the framework of the FIH World Cup Qualifiers 2026 Santiago (hereinafter, the Event). These provisions are issued by the Chilean Hockey Federation (Chile Hockey), the official organizing entity of the tournament, and are intended to regulate the access, stay, and conduct of all accredited persons during the official activities of the events.

2. Definitions

Accreditation: A personal, non-transferable, and revocable credential that authorizes access to specific areas of the event, according to the assigned role or category.

Accredited Participant: A person who, having completed their registration and validation process, receives official accreditation to perform tasks or attend delimited areas of the event.

Event Zones: Areas established by the organization (e.g., Zones 1, 2, and 3), where access is restricted based on the type of accreditation.

Chile Hockey: The Chilean Field Hockey Federation, the entity responsible for the management and control of accreditations, entry, stay, and security of participants.

3. Accreditation Categories

Production, Volunteers, Sponsors, Suppliers, Press, and Fan Fest. Each category has specific access zones and responsibilities determined by the organization.

4. Registration and Validation Process

All accreditation requests must be made through the official form available on the event website, within the deadlines established by Chile Hockey. Submitting the form implies full acceptance of these Terms and Conditions.

Chile Hockey may request additional background information or verify personal, employment, or criminal records for the purpose of validating the request.

The assignment of zones and the approval of each accreditation will depend on the evaluation and availability determined by the organizing committee.

Chile Hockey reserves the right to reject, suspend, or revoke an accreditation at any time, without obligation of compensation, if non-compliance or falsehood in the information provided is detected.

5. Use and Validity of Accreditation

Accreditation is personal and non-transferable. The accredited participant must wear their credential visibly at all times within the venue.

It is prohibited to transfer or share the accreditation, remain in unassigned zones, or enter the field of play or technical areas without authorization.

Chile Hockey may withdraw or suspend the accreditation if the holder engages in inappropriate conduct or fails to comply with regulations.

6. Rules of Conduct and Security

Accredited participants must maintain respectful, orderly, and professional conduct at all times. It is prohibited to consume alcohol or illicit substances, smoke in non-designated areas, damage facilities, or disseminate unauthorized content.

Participants must follow the instructions of the security and organizational staff, especially in emergency situations. Any non-compliance may result in immediate expulsion and revocation of accreditation.

7. Confidentiality and Image Rights

All accredited participants agree to keep confidential any internal, logistical, and operational information accessed during the event.

Participation implies authorization for Chile Hockey to use their image, voice, or name free of charge in photographs, recordings, or promotional material for the tournament.

8. Risks, Liability, and Indemnification

The accredited participant declares they are responsible for their physical integrity and personal belongings, exempting Chile Hockey from any liability for losses or accidents, except in cases of proven negligence.

9. Protection of Personal Data

Personal data will be treated in accordance with Law No. 19.628 and will only be used for the management of the accreditation process, communication, and event information. Data deletion may be requested at contacto@fehoch.cl.

10. Revocation and Sanctions

Chile Hockey may suspend or revoke accreditations in the event of non-compliance, misuse, or behaviors that jeopardize the safety or reputation of the event. Revocation does not grant the right to appeal or compensation.

11. Acceptance of Terms

By submitting the request, the participant declares to have read, understood, and accepted these Terms and Conditions.
